ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

Department of Lifelong Learning in joint collaboration with Rajasthan Statistical Association is organizing "1st National Conference on Statistics for Humanities and Social Sciences: Recent Trends and Advancements" during January 15-16, 2018. The vision of the conference is to provide a platform to academicians, researchers, students, statisticians etc. for sharing the innovative ideas and trends in statistics and related areas of humanities and social sciences.

Statistics is a real-life science interrelated and interdependent with customized scientific methods, advanced functions, laws and various theories that make up the base for policy planning and its implementation. The role of statistics is indispensable in various areas of research, policy formulation and planning for future development.

It would give an opportunity for academic interactions through regular paper presentations, invited talks, group discussions and keynote addresses. The conference would comprise the following panels: (these titles are suggestive and papers alluding to related issues would also be included)

- ❖ Statistical Applications in Humanities
- ❖ Statistical Applications in Social Sciences
- ❖ Recent Advances in Applied Statistics
- ❖ Statistical Methods for Data Analysis
- ❖ Statistical Inference
